The Department of Architecture and Urban Design at UCLA invites nominations and applications for the newly created position of Director. Located in one of the country’s most dynamic, creative and challenging urban centers, the department has earned an international reputation for excellence and seeks a Director who will foster and contribute to the global perspective of one of the strongest faculties of architectural design in the US. Committed to advanced design and research, particularly to the integration of new technologies and critical studies with architectural and urban design, the department views teaching as actively contributing to both research and practice and seeks to make appointments that advance these undertakings.

Reporting to the Dean of the School of the Arts and Architecture, the Director will be responsible for advancing the growth and impact of the department by lending entrepreneurial intelligence to institution building (including a new Digital Technologies Center), fund raising, alumni relations, community and professional outreach, student recruitment, program development and administration.

It is preferred that the candidate have a strong record of administrative experience, and a demonstrated interest in architectural culture qualifying her/him for a tenured teaching appointment.

Candidates are requested to furnish a letter of interest along with a complete resume or curriculum vitae. They are also asked to include the names, phone numbers, and mail and e-mail (if available) address(es) of three references qualified to provide a knowledgeable evaluation of their qualifications. No additional support materials should be submitted until requested. Application deadline is April 1, 2005 or until filled.

Address letters of application to: Richard Weinstein, Acting Chair, UCLA, Department of Architecture and Urban Design, 1317 Perloff Hall, Los Angeles, CA  90095-1467
